

Inspection Mirror

Inspection mirrors are known for their seemingly limitless uses both around the home and in the shop. For instance, an inspection mirror can be used to check behind an armoire for lost keys or beneath an engine block for a missing bolt. Inspection Mirrors are popular for welding inspection as gives precise information about weld. Inspection Mirrors come in a variety sizes and lengths, and feature dual ball-and-socket joints for infinite angle adjustments of the mirror. Inspection mirror has telescopic extension to reach upto 16".

Model	Description
SIM	3-1/2" x 2" Rectangular Telescoping Inspection Mirror
RIM	13/4" dia Round Telescoping Inspection Mirror